Updated results - I managed to deduct the time penalty twice from 2 runners (highlighted above). Serves me right for criticising people for not being able to add up!!

Well done to all you hardy runners who made it out in the sub zero conditions! Hope you all enjoyed the fantastic map. Due to the low numbers, I took the time to verify your control sheets. I know a lot of you are going to hate me now, because there was more than the one mistake, only 9 runners had all their control numbers right. A few had trouble adding up, most just had the one mistake. If you want to know where you went wrong, get in touch. Ian (furlongis@gmail.com)
