Thank you for all coming along - I set off in the morning to put the controls out expecting a soaking, but miraculously the rain held off and it turned into a lovely afternoon.

As the olites are billed as training events, I thought I'd try and provide an opportunity for a bit of technique training mixed in with the regular courses. Major thanks to Tony Thornley for producing the contour only version of the map - this added an extra dimension to an area that most regular club members know pretty well.

The main challenge on the green course was to plan a course that was light green standard using the full map, but turned into a series of good compass and pacing legs and contour interpretation legs on the contour only map. Judging by the feedback this worked pretty well - ie less experienced runners enjoyed a light green where they didn't get too lost, whilst the more experienced were able to sharpen up on nav skills and those in the middle learned a few new tricks - various club members both junior and senior told me they'd learned how to pace count, follow bearings more accurately and/or read contours more confidently at the event, so I'd call that a result!

On the other courses, plenty of juniors and local families got round in good times and/or did two courses - with some juniors also completing a short compass/pacing/contour exercise that I'd set near the car park after their run. Beyond that, I hope I've spelt your names correctly - apologies if not and I hope you can recognise yourselves below.
