

Thornton Night Score Results 12 January 2022

Thank you all for venturing out to the west of Bradford, The overall impression was that you found Thornton entertaining albeit hilly.

The experiment with pale blue overprint seemed to go down well, The comments I heard seemed to agree it was clearer than the usual purple. I'm not sure whether we will get a further opportunity to experiment again this season; the maps for Bolton Woods are already printed with the usual purple - unless Richard feels like experimenting with the Leeds map. If I do it again I think I'll try White overprint on dark background alongside Purple or even Red on light background. Over the past few days I've heard a surprising number of folk independently advocating a return to Red overprint generally – not just on night urban maps.

I'd appreciate any feedback on this from tonight's competitors
